HOW TO USE NATIONAL JOURNAL INDEXES

Material in National Journal is indexed in eight ways:

National Journal articles ..... 3

This list is designed to provide quick access to reports and focus articles which have appeared in National Journal Volume 11, January-December 1979.

Personal names ..... 8 including public officials and private individuals whose activities are referred to in National Journal. Excluded from this index are deceased persons.

Private organizations ..... 41 including associations, law firms, lobby groups, trade organizations, corporations and universities whose activities are covered by National Journal. Divisions of private organizations are listed under their complete, official names. If the official name begins with initials or a first name rather than the surname, the organization is filed alphabetically under the initial or first name as follows:

E.C. Knight Co. files with the E's

Arthur D. Little Co. files with the A's

Congress ..... 53

including congressional committees and subcommittees whose activities are covered by National Journal. Committees are filed under their substantive names; for example:

Senate Committee on Foreign Relations is filed as Foreign Relations Committee, Senate

Subcommittees are listed under the committee.

Government organizations ..... 61 including federal departments, independent agencies, commissions, quasi-government agencies, state departments and international organizations whose activities are covered by National Journal. Government organizations are filed under their substantive names; for example:

Office of Education is filed as Education Office

Bureau of Labor Statistics is filed as Labor Statistics Bureau

Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations is filed as Intergovernmental Relations Advisory Commission.

Subdivisions of government units are listed under the main entity. Proposed government units are in italic type.

Geographic areas ..... 77 including states, cities, congressional districts, foreign countries and other geographic place names. Sections of the Geographic Index are the United States and Foreign Countries.

Subjects ..... 81

This index is arranged in broad subject categories which appear in bold face type. Each main category has subordinate categories.

Policy Forum ..... 87

This index is arranged in broad subject categories which appear in bold face type. Each main category is followed by a specific topic and then a reference to the individual or organization which made the statement in National Journal's POLICY FORUM.

When persons, places or organizations are mentioned in National Journal more than five times, subject headings are used under the name.

Major studies or analyses are indicated by page numbers in bold face type.

Entries are alphabetized letter by letter. Example:

American Road Builders

Americans for Democratic Action

American Society of Newspaper Editors

Aetna Life and Casualty

AFL-CIO

Air Transport Assn. of America.

NOTES

14 Ways National Journal Can Help You Each Week

1. Understand the issues—Incisive and comprehensive analyses of issues provide you with the positions and strategies of the Administration, Congress, and all the interest groups.

2. Save time—Our staff conducts numerous personal interviews and sifts through primary source material, documents, testimony, press releases, newspapers and government publications so that you and your staff don't have to.

3. Be up-to-date—Our weekly "At A Glance" section tells you in seconds the current status of 24 major issues confronting Congress and the Executive Branch.

4. Expand "your own" professional staff—Our 16 full-time reporters and editors, recognized experts in their fields, provide you with reliable, timely, and unbiased reporting.

5. Keep track of the players—Our weekly "People" section tracks the movement from job to job of the key people in government, media, business, labor and interest groups.

6. Know the players' positions—Our "Policy Forum" section offers position statements by individuals and organizations both inside and outside government.

7. Questions answered at no cost—Subscribers may call our reference desk service for answers to questions on the status of bills, congressional votes, availability of government documents, previous National Journal articles, etc.

8. Receive advance notice of conferences—National Journal's public policy conferences on issues such as health, taxes and trade have attracted more than 3,000 attendees.

9. Be amused—Our weekly "It Happens Only In Washington" fills you in on the lighter moments that also are part of policy making in Washington.

10. Keep abreast of important reports—New and useful, but often overlooked, government and academic publications are regularly brought to your attention through "InfoFile," a guide to facts and publications.

11. Build up your own reference library—Our handsome binders and weekly and cumulative semi-annual indexes (by subject, organization and personal names) allow you easy access to your "indispensable" library of National Journals.

12. Have your own White House directory—The most up-to-date White House telephone directory publicly available will be yours as soon as you subscribe.

13. Keep ahead of the game—Our articles are designed to tell you what's happening in time for you to act.

14. Save money—National Journal reports, analyses and services come to you each week at a fraction of what you would pay for research and analysis of any single subject.

WASHINGTON'S REQUIRED READING

President Carter has been known to scratch a note on his weekly news-magazine summary asking his staff to "get me the National Journal." Former HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. couldn't wait until Monday for his copy; he dispatched a messenger to the magazine's offices Friday afternoon to pick one up. Business Round Table executive director John Post reads the weekly "cover to cover" while John Stowell, vice president of the National Association of Home Builders, considers it his "eyes and ears around Washington."

Ten years old this month, the National Journal may be the nation's most respected nonpartisan source of information about how Washington's policymaking machinery really works. Its subject matter is unabashedly serious, its presentation determinedly unslick and its writing style heavy going. But its careful, no-nonsense coverage of the process and players in government has made it required reading for bureaucrats, legislators, business and labor leaders, reporters. Among its 4,000 subscribers: the White House with 80 copies (at $345 a year), Congress another 425. "Information is power in this town," says Mark Green, director of Ralph Nader's Congress Watch. "Any-one who wants to have a public-policy impact and doesn't read the National Journal is a contradiction in terms."

The Journal separates itself from most of Washington's political reporting by giving its readers an insight into the mechanics of government as well as the substance of an issue. A recent article on campaign-finance laws not only spelled out the rules but explained their substantial impact on the state-by-state strategy of Presidential candidates. A special 1980 election handbook is so replete with voting records, statistics, trends and convention details that more than 1,000 copies—at $7.95 each—sold in the first 48 hours off the presses.

FEATURES: A typical 40-page issue offers six or seven in-depth articles on such subjects as Alaska gas, public transportation or business's assault on the Federal Trade Commission. Writers such as urban-affairs expert Neal R. Peirce and economics specialist Robert J. Samuelson—considered among the best in Washington—appear regularly. Features include a "People" section filled with facts about job changes in the media as well as in the bureaucracy; an "At a Glance" digest of the status of major hearings, bills and court cases; and "Washington Update," covering such news developments as Amtrak cutbacks or government pay hikes.
